FEATURED FLUTIST

LAURIE DUESING

Laurie played flute from 6th Grade until her junior year in college. Then about 18 years ago she took up the flute again at the urging of her sister Nancy, who wanted to play duets as they did when they were kids. Laurie's favorite composer for flute of all time is Cimarosa and she loves playing Vivaldi's "Four Seasons" in flute choir. Dr. Duesing taught composition, literature and creative writing at the community college level for 39 years. After moving to Louisville, she taught Beginning Latin at U of L and Louisville Classical Academy. For a number of years, she was an ardent poet; now she plays the flute!
